STONE PANELS

Stone Panel is a decorative interior product designed with three-dimensional patterns and textures on its surface. Stone panel is made from polyvinyl chloride (PVC).

Stone panels are commonly used for wall and ceiling coverings. Used as decorative accents in both residential and commercial spaces.

The embossing process involves creating raised or recessed patterns on the panels surface, which adds depth and texture to the panel.

Texture And Appearance

The primary feature of stone panels is the textured surface, which can replicate a wide range of designs. Stone-textured PVC panels are engineered to closely resemble the texture and appearance of various natural stones like granite, slate, limestone or marble.
